BREAD LOAF STAFF TO INCLUDE MANY PROMINENT PEOPLE

James Milton O'Neill To Give Course In Debate

ROBERT FROST TO BE SPECIAL LECTURER

Marguerite Wilkinson, Grace Conkling, Others of Note

The teaching staff of The School of English at Bread Loaf for the summer of 1924, as announced today by Dean Wilfred E. Davison, includes Vernon C. Harrington, L. H. D. Boardman, Professor of Philosophy, Middlebury College; Fred Lewis Pattee, Litt. D., Professor of American Literature, Pennsylvania State College, author of "American Literature Since 1870", "The Development of the American Short Story"; Marguerite Wilkinson, of New York City, poet and critic, author of "New Voices", "The Great Dream"; Charles Robert Gaston, Ph. D., Head of the English Department of Richmond Hill High School, New York, a former president of the National Council of Teachers of English; James Milton O'Neill, Professor of Rhetoric and Oratory, University of Wisconsin, author of "A Manual of Debate and Oral Discussion", "Models of Speech Composition"; Sidney Cox, Assistant Professor of English, State University of Montana; Allen Crafton, Professor of Speech and Dramatic Art, Kansas University; Leonora Branch, of the faculty of Mount Holyoke College; and Ruth H. Spoor, of the Artistic and Producing Force of The 47 Workshop.

The program includes courses in The Appreciation of Literature, Studies in the Structure of the Drama and Novel Creative Writing, Theory and Practice of Modern Drama, and Theory and Practice of Stage Design.

The list of special lecturers is not yet complete, but it is announced that Robert Frost, author of "North of Boston" and Grace Hazard Conkling, author of "Afternoons in April" will each spend a week at the School. Copies of the preliminary announcement may be obtained at the office of the Director of the Summer Session. Middlebury students wishing to attend the School should apply to Miss Helen W. Blanchard, Secretary, for application blanks, and the reservation of rooms. The dates of the School this year are July 1 to August 15.

Morey Issues Call For Spring Training

A call has been issued by Coach David Morey and Coach Erwin E. Drost for football candidates to start spring practice. Any men who expect to report for the squad next fall must take the work this spring as it is unlikely that a training camp will be maintained in the fall. In the event that a camp should be maintained it will be only for a very short period of time. The coaches announce that all men who are going out for football should get uniforms from Manager Bassett by Saturday and report for practice on Monday at 3:30 p. m.

DEBATE SEASON TO OPEN NEXT WEEK

To Debate U. V. M. At Burlington March 21 On the World Court—Will Use Oxford Method

Middlebury will open her debate season next week Friday in a debate with the University of Vermont at Burlington on the subject: Resolved, that the United States should join the Permananent Court of International Justice as established by the League of Nations This is the question which will be used in all the debates.

On March 28, the team will meet Massachusetts Agricultural College in a home debate. April 11, Middlebury will debate Hamilton in Albany, N. Y. Particular interest attaches to this debate since Middlebury defeated Hamilton in 1922 and lost last year to the Clinton team A debate with Boston University here the first week in April is also practically assured. The Heights debaters have announced their intention of bringing their whole squad and stenographer to Middlebury for this contest. Challenges from Tufts and from St. Michaels have had to be declined.

Toleman '24 is the only man on the squad who has had previous experience in intercollegiate debate. The rest of the squad consists of Hawthorne, Hade, Collins, Jackson, Reighard and Ely. From these men the team for the U. V. M. debate will be chosen this week. Professors Kline, Harrington and Kingsley are assisting Prof. Davison in the coaching.

The teams will consist of two men each, except in the debate with B. U. in which three will be used, and the speaking will be extemporaneous, following the Oxford method.

DELTA U CAPTURES SCHOLARSHIP HONORS OF LAST SEMESTER

Tri Delts Lead Sororities With 85.74 Average

WHOLE COLLEGE AVERAGES 80.52

Grades Lower Than Last Semester of 1922-23

Delta Upsilon fraternity ranked highest of the fraternities in scholarship last semester with a group average of 80.35, according to a statement issued by the Registrar last week. Delta Delta Delta topped the list of the sororities, having an average of 85.74.

On the whole, the scholarship averages tumbled somewhat from those of the previous semester, in which the Philians led the men's groups with an average of 82.59, and Pi Beta Phi the women's groups with an average of 86.46. The average grades follow:

Fraternities

Delta Upsilon	80.35
Chi Psi	79.60
Kappa Delta Rho	79.43
Philians	79.29
Alpha Sigma Phi	78.19
Delta Kappa Epsilon	77.53
Neutrals	76.65
Sigma Phi Iota	75.91
Chi Kappa Mu	74.32
Average of fraternity men	78.43
Average of non-fraternity men	77.28
Average of all men	77.93

Sororities

Inbad, The Tailor Replete With Thrills

"Inbad, The Tailor," Middlebury's first musical comedy, which will be presented in the McCullough gymnasium Thursday, March 20, is replete with those elements which go to make up a "thriller."

The story opens in the modiste shop of Madame Lavollier, born Mamie Sullivan, and we learn that Joe Inbad, her tailor, is in love with Mildred, the merry model. The villain soon trys his deadly work and Milly begins to cool towards Joe. The cabaret scene in the second act will give a chance for devotees of Terpsichore to demonstrate their ability, and the last act takes place at the sumptuous country estate of Glenwood Raymond, the vilyun. The plot (if a musical comedy may be said to have a plot) begins when the long finger of the law in the person of Detective Schnitzenheimer points toward Raymond. Of course Joe catches the crooks and everything ends as everyone knew it was going to.

Besides the work of the chorus, there will be some specialty numbers including dancing and a trick juggler. Joe Novotny is lending the Bohemian touch to the scenery.

Seat sale will begin this afternoon at Frost's Pharmacy. Should attendance at the first performance warrant it, "Inbad, The Tailor" will run two nights giving everyone a chance to see the play.

Appropriate Money To Sweater Fund

A sum of $90, originally raised for the baseball cage fund was appropriated for the buying of Varsity sweaters, by the Undergraduation Association last night. At the same meeting Lester W. Schaefer, of Hartford, Conn., was elected Assistant Manager of Hockey.

PROF. MORENO-LACALLE ANNOUNCES EXTENSIVE PLANS FOR MAINTAINING HIGH STANDARD OF FRENCH SCHOOL

Let Contracts For Three New Buildings

The first milestone in Middlebury's building program was reached yesterday when contracts were signed for the erection of the new Porter Hospital on South Street, and a new French House and Music House both to be built on Hillside Avenue this coming summer.

The successful bidders were H. P. Comings Company of Wells River, Vt., and Haverhill, Mass.

BASEBALL PROSPECTS NOT OVER BRIGHT

Lack of Training Facilities Usual Handicap—Several Good Men Ineligible For Varsity

Prospects for a successful baseball season are not especially bright, the lack of adequate training facilities, always a handicap to Middlebury nines, being sorely felt this season due to the lateness of spring vacation. There is a possibility that battery practice will be begun soon in the McCullough Gymnasium, altho the demands of the track squad and women's basket ball teams together with the formal dances which will be held almost weekly during the rest of the semester, make the demands upon the use of the Gym very great. In all probability the members of last year's varsity and those who aspire to positions this year will be asked to return five days earlier in the Spring vacation and work out twice a day under Coach Morey on Porter Field.

The loss of "Ripper" Gallagher who guarded the initial sack last season broke up a smooth working infield combination that will necessitate some shifts. Coach Morey will in all likelihood shift "Mike" Papke, regular shortstop to first and Klevenow to the box. Potentially "Marsh" Klevenow should make a fine mound artist and could also be used in the outfield. These shifts will leave openings for a second baseman and a shortstop.

Of last season's letter men "Chuck" Martin, center fielder, and "Joe" Novotny, right fielder, are ineligible due to scolastic difficulties. The prospects from the freshman class are few. Rich and Hasseltine, both high school captains and stars are ineligible. Coach Morey entertains the hope that there may be some heretofore unknown stars in the frosh aggregation.

The first game of the schedule is with New York State Teachers' College here on April 25th, three days after the re-opening of college after Easter recess. Five days later the Blue and White nine leaves on a four day and four game trip playing Harvard, Worcester Tech, Boston University, Boston College, all of whom have had the advantages of either cage practice, southern trips or both.

"Captain Applejack" To Be Junior Play

"Captain Applejack," a three-act comedy by Arthur Hackett, will be the dramatic attempt of the Junior Class this year according to the choice of the Play Committee, Keneth Anderson, chairman. Tryouts for the several parts will begin Thursday night of this week.

Professor Lalou and Dequaire, Two of France's Greatest Educators, To Carry On Work Laid Down By Professor De-Visme.

DEQUAIRE TO BE DEAN OF SCHOOL

Plan To Lay Cornerstone of New Maison Francaise On July 14 Ambassador Jusserand Invited To Be Principal Speaker

Plans for the reorganization of the French School, made necessary by the resignation of Professor de Visme, are now completed, and the Bulletin for the Summer Session of 1924 will soon be ready for distribution. According to the preliminary announcement just issued by Professor Moreno-Lacalle, Director of the Romance Language Schools, President Moody has spared no effort nor expense to maintain and even raise the high standard of instruction and efficiency attained in previous sessions.

After consultation with Professor Andre Morize of Harvard and M. Julien J. Champenois, in charge of the American bureau of the Office National des Universites et des Ecoles Francaises and through the latter's good offices, President Moody has engaged for the coming session, two of France's greatest scholars and educators, Professors Rene Lalou and Jean Dequaire. The services of Professor James F. Broussard, Head of the Romance Language Department of Louisiana State University, have also been secured for the summer of 1924.

Professor Lalou's latest work, "Histoire de la Literature Francaise Contemporaine" has caused a great sensa-

Outing Club Plans To Build New Jump

Will Consult Professor Proctor of Dartmouth On Plans

Present plans of the Outing Club, if approved by the college authorities, will provide for the building of a new ski jump on the top of Chipman Hill which will make jumps of 100 to 125 feet possible. Professor Proctor of Dartmouth, who built the Dartmouth jump and who is much consulted in regard to the erection of jumps in various parts of the country, will help plan the new jump.

Representatives of Williams, Norwich, New Hampshire and Middlebury met in Montreal at the time of the recent McGill Carnival and drew up tentative plans for meets next winter between these four colleges. At the time of the carnival, the Intercollegiate Ski Association was abolihsed and a new organization formed to be known as the Intercollegiate Winter Sports Association. This organization is to hold an annual meet toward the close of the season at which the college championships will be decided. This organization voted to add speed and figure skating to the list of events. The carnival will be held each year at such time as will allow Cornell and teams from the middle west to compete.

American Colleges Raise Fund For Needy European Students

"Since 1920, the Student Friendship Fund has aided 105,000 out of a total of 500,000 students in the universities of Europe," said Mr. Raymond T. Rich, Eastern Director of the Student Friendship Fund, in an interview yesterday. "It has supplied them with food, clothing, living quarters, books, and medicinal care. Without this help, thousands would have been obliged to give up their university careers. From the 650 contributing colleges in the United States, relief has gone to 200 institutions of higher learning in Central Europe, Asia Minor, Russia and Poland, and to refugee students in Great Britain, France, Greece, Switzerland and the United States.

"Constructive relief rather than pauperizing charity has been the object of the European Student Relief. It acts simply in the capacity of helping needy students to help themselves. Seldom does it give anything outright. The students pay for the meals that are served in the student kitchens. To be sure it is only a nominal charge—about a cent a meal, but it keeps them from developing a feeling of dependence. For clothes also there is a small charge. But frequently garments are 'loaned' to students who are so destitute that they cannot afford even a small fee.

"Toward this years' work, 263 American schools up to January 1st had raised in pledges and cash a total of $77,650. The budget adopted at the Indianapolis convention after approval by representatives of 200 institutions called for $251,000 from students. Of this, $75,000 is for emergency relief in Germany, several of whose universities will be obliged to shut their doors un-

Pagan Gods

If a person were to make a survey of college life at Middlebury—and there is no reason to believe that conditions are unique here—he would undoubtedly be struck with the strenuous efforts that students make to occupy their time in some other way than with their books. "Haven't cracked a book in this course yet", is a common boast and one which an outsider may find difficult to understand. The lure of undergraduate offices, the excessive desire for social good times, mistaken ideas of winning glory for the College, the honest desire for self-benefit thru participation in activities, all contribute to detract from studies until they become a rather troublesome but inescapable nuisance, while activities assume elephantine importance, perhaps legitimately so. Let us see.

Undergraduate offices by themselves are nothing. There may be a chance to improve ones self and the college society as a whole in working toward these offices and and in performing their duties, but in themselves the offices are nothing. But, you say, the honor of it. Poppycock! ca n'existe pas! To win the ephemeral honor of a leading position develops not determination but self-pride, which in the average college undergraduate is in little need of development. It is positively pitiful to see the serious eagerness with which students struggle to attain these petty offices, which, as a matter of fact, are poorly repaid in any coin.

The attraction of good times is a perfectly legitimate one, if held in reasonable restraint. If allowed free run, however, one's life becomes cluttered with time-consuming details which are more of a bore than a pleasure. As for doing great things for the College thru offices, athletics, debating, etc, it is a question whether one would not do more by closer cooperation with the faculty in curriculum work. The best reason one can give for much extra-curricularum work is the belief in its value as self-training. This is no excuse, however, for over-participation and consequent neglect of courses, the training value of which is more certain.

We are not out simply to "razz" everything which takes one's attention from books, but we do believe it is high time that activities be dethroned and relegated to their rightful place and that curriculum work be elevated to its due position of importance. Keep a man out of organized activities who is behind his class, or whose grades are consistently low, abolish those courses generally recognized as "pipes", make it impossible for a man to pass a course without "cracking a book", and we predict the library will have a host of callers, and that Middlebury will become a place of study even if not a place of learning.

Reasonable Senior Privileges

The Senior women are about to make their annual spring bid for extra privileges. They are, perhaps, more confident of its success than previous classes have been, and they have reason to be. At one time privileges were not even thought possible. Gradually, however, as the girls assumed responsibility and a beginning was made to differentiate between classes, the Seniors have felt that more freedom from rules is due them. But in framing these requests, they did not always take the matter quite seriously enough. Not really expecting their requests to be granted, they made them somewhat exorbitant—at times these demands have even approached the humorous.

This year, however, the girls are making only reasonable requests which they are all prepared to back up. They feel that their rank, their leadership ability, and their accomplishments in scholarship and extra-curricular activities, all merit special privileges. The privileges they are asking for are both reasonable and just, and should be granted in the same spirit in which they are requested.

IDLER SUBMITS HIS IDEAS FOR A PERSONNEL RATING SHEET FOR THE DEAN'S OFFICE

In order that the office may know more about the health, morals and personal eccentricities of the persons who are associated with this noble institution of learning, they have gotten out a new system of questionnaires for misinformation. However, the Idler feels that it is indeed too general and doesn't go into detail enough. He therefore submits a sheet for the disapproval of the stewedent body. Let 'er ride!

Propaganda?

Thru his vocational lecture program, Dean Wiley is bringing some very interesting men to Middlebury this year and some very interesting professions are being covered. Mr. George H.. Doran, who spoke last week on the subject of "Publishing," is one of the outstanding figures in his field. In his enthusiastic talk of the lifework which he has followed for forty years, he painted a glowing picture of a vocation which apparently has not been over-advertised.

One may object to these lectures on the ground that they are propaganda, but after all, when any man opens his mouth to utter an opinion he spreads progapanda, and a world without propaganda would be a very dumb world. Undoubtedly the vocational lectures are of some publicity benefit to the men who give them and to their businesses, but the more significant fact to us is that they represent the advice of experienced men, schooled in their professions. From this point of view the lectures are uniquely educational, since they give the inside information on trades and vocations which is not generally understood by those who have had no experience in them.

ALUMNI COLUMN

Barney Potratz, 1922, spent the week-end in town. Barney has succeeded in developing at Springfield one of the best basket ball teams in the state. This is proved by the fact that the Springfield team was able to trim the College Freshman team this year, a feat that was duplicated only by Goddard.

Professor D. L. Robinson, 1903, was the speaker at the monthly smoker of the Springfield, Vt., Community Club on Friday of last week. On Wednesday of the previous week Professor Robinson addressed the Community Club of Leicester.

Homer R. Denison, 1914, is to act as the representative of the college at the annual College Choosing Day for the schools of New Haven, Conn.

Miss Dorothy Slayton, 1923, who recently underwent an operation for appendicitis at the Brattleboro Hospital, has so far recovered as to be able to leave the hospital. She is expected to return to Middlebury soon to take up again her work as assistant to Prof. Hathaway.

Stanley Wright, 1919, has recently returned from a trip to New York.

Chas. N. Pray Made Federal Judge

Chas. N. Pray, '90 of Great Falls, Montana, has been appointed by President Coolidge Federal Judge in the District of Montana.

Mr. Pray prepared for college in the Middlebury High School, and lived in Middlebury during the period. He studied law in Chicago, and practiced there and in Montana. He was Congressman from Montana from 1907 to 1913.

Former Leader of Glee Club Praises Singers Performance—Believes Great Credit Due Professor Larsen

Dear Mr. Editor:

Alumni and friends of Middlebury College who were present at the recent Intercollegiate Glee Club Contest in Carnegie Hall, as well as those who heard it over the radio, must have been impressed by the very satisfactory work of the Middlebury singers. While the club sang all its numbers well, its rendition of the prize song was among the best of the evening. Much praise is due the club and its able leader. I feel, however, that the lion's share of the credit belongs to Professor Larsen. As director he has brought the club to a standard comparable with the best college clubs in the country, and in addition his efforts have been chiefly responsible for the actual appearance of the club in the contest.

Certainly by creating such favorable impressions Middlebury will gain the friendship of many people who will know her as a college which stands for the best in artistic endeavor as well as one which can defeat formidable rivals on the athletic field. Let us hope that Middlebury will continue to compete in the annual Glee Club Contest.

GLEE CLUB SCORES SEVENTH IN CONTEST

Wins 243 Points Out of a Possible 300—Please WJZ People

The Glee Club won seventh place in theIntercollegiate Glee Club Contest held in Carnegie Hall, New York, the evening of March 1, according to the detailed rating just received by Manager E. S. Kalin from the committee in charge. Middlebury's score was 243 points out of a possible 300. The clubs which rated lower than Middlebury were those of the University of Pennsylvania, Princeton, Wesleyan and Amherst. Yale won the contest with a total of 288 points.

In the light song, which was "Glorious Forever," by Rachmaninoff, Middlebury scored 70 out of a possible 90 points, 127 out of a possible 150 in the prize song, which was Henschel's "Morning Hymn", and 46 out of 60 in the college song group for which Middlebury sang the Alma Mater. Middlebury's enviable record in its first appearance in this contest is due largely to the excellent work of Director Alfred C. Larsen who has had charge of the training of the Glee Club for the past three years.

Manager Kalin is also in receipt of a letter from Charles L. Popenoe, program manager of the Radio Corporation of America, complimenting the Middlebury Club on the excellence of the program which it broadcasted from WJZ in Aeolian Hall, and telling of the favor with which it met from "listeners in" in all parts of the East. The Radio Corporation has also invited the Club to broadcast another concert whenever it can be arranged.

Plans are now under way for a number of spring engagements of the Club in different parts of New England.

Professor Mills Out Until After Vacation

Professor Owen W. Mills, Head of the Biology Department, who has been suffering for the past two weeks from a severe attack of the grippe, is fast gaining his strength. Those who are closely associated with Prof. Mills entertain hopes that he will be able to return to his duties after vacation. Until that time Prof. Longwell will be in charge of the department and of all instruction in Prof. Mills' classes, being assisted by A. H. Bulbulian, '25.

Will Give Benefit

Kappa Kappa Gamma will give a benefit movie, "A Lady of Quality," by Frances Hodgson Burnett, at the Opera House, Firday night, for the benefit of the Kappa Kappa Gamma Rose McGill Fund and the Students' Aid Fund. Any student in a college where there is a Kappa Kappa Gamma Chapter may borrow from the Student Aid Fund. The Rose McGill Fund is for any Kappa girl whose health is such that she needs aid.

ALMOST NOT ENOUGH SAYS DR. HARRINGTON

Illustrates Sermon With Examples of Hairsbreadth Failures

Dr. Vernon C. Harrington spoke in Mead Memorial chapel at Vespers last Sunday, taking as his text, "And when Jesus saw that he answered directly, he said unto Him, 'Thou are not far from the kingdom of God' ". The last words were the keynote of his sermon which he illustrated by the varying cases of men who were not far from opportunity and success but missed them completely.

"But," said Dr. Harrington, "how much good did it do them to be not far off? We are in a real world and we must face facts. We deceive ourselves if we think that being not far from what we ought to be is sufficient. To fail by a little is still to fail."

"So it is," he continued, "in the great life of truth and righteousness, in the kingdom of God on earth. Nothing can take the place of positive goodness in the world. There is no use in saying, 'we are not very wicked.' The question is are we aggressively and positively good? That is what the world needs. It is an indisputable fact which millions of men and women have found to be true, that the key to the way of living nobler, more beautiful lives is in Jesus Christ and in following him."

HAWTHORNE TO HEAD 1926 KALEID BOARD

J. A. Clark Elected To Take Business Manager's Position

Dana S. Hawthorne of Waldoboro, Maine, was elected editor of the 1926 Kaleidoscope at a meeting of the sophomore class held last Wednesday. At the same time, J. Audrey Clark of Buffalo, New York, was elected business manager and Miss Elizabeth Kelley of Reading, New York, was named as assistant editor. The assistant business manager has not yet been chosen.

Mr. Hawthorne is well qualified to hold the position of editor, having had experience both in prep school and college in the work of publications. He has been an assistant editor on the Campus staff for the past year. He has also been active in public-speaking, having won the first prizes in both the Parker and Merrill speaking contests. At the present time he is a member of the debating squad.

Mr. Clark, who is an assistant editor of the Campus and was editor of his High school paper is equally experienced at this work. He is also a member of the Blue Baboon staff. The second prize in the Parker prize speaking was won by Mr. Clark last year. He is a member of the Sigma Phi Iota fraternity and Delta Tau. Miss Kelley is a member of Delta Omega Delta sorority.

The Kaleidoscope elections have been held earlier than usual this year in order that as much of the work of organization as possible may be accomplished before summer. The early election will also enable the staff to work with the 1925 Kaliedoscope Board, thus obtaining valuable experience for their next year's work.

"Best Paid Hard Work in the World"

IS the way a JOHN HANCOCK salesman described his work. He is a college graduate and in five years has put himself at the very top of his business. He never yet has called upon a prospect without a previous appointment. The best life insurance salesmen today work on that plan, making it a business of dignity, such as any worthy and ambitious college graduate can find satisfying to his mental needs, and highly remunerative as well.

The man above quoted is the John Hancock's youngest general agent. This shows what college graduates of the right type can do in this business, how they can build up earning power and at the same time provide for an accumulated competence for the years to come.

Graduation is a vital period in your life and you are liable to hold to the business you start in. It would be well before making a definite decision to inquire into life insurance as a career. Address, "Agency Department."

THE SCHOOL OF
CHEMICAL ENGINEERING PRACTICE
OF THE MASSACHUSETTS INSTITUTE OF TECHNOLOGY

A GRADUATE SCHOOL offering a course of study leading to the degree of Master of Science, with field stations in the plants of six different companies. These companies produce steel, pulp, paper, caustic soda, chlorine, heavy acids and salts, sugar, gas, ammonia, benzol, etc.

The more important unit operations of chemical engineering are studied systematically by means of tests and experimental work on full scale plant apparatus.

The work is wholly educational and independent of control by the plant managements. The attention of the student is directed exclusively to the study of Chemical Engineering.

The total number admitted to the school is limited and the students, studying and experimenting in small groups, receive individual instruction from resident professors. For entrance requirements and details address R. T. Haslam, Director, School of Chemical Engineering Practice.

Lacalle Announces Plans For French School

tion among the French men of letters, and it is hailed as the most authoritative work on the subject.

M. Dequaire, who is now a professor in the Lycee Voltaire, is an educator of long standing and an authority on methods. Like Professor Lalou, he is an Agrege de l 'Universite, the highest distinction conferred upon French University men. In addition to his courses, Professor Dequaire will act as Dean of the French School, and in the same capacity will have charge of the School during the College year 1924-1925, as well as of its 1925 Summer Session.

Professor Lalou is expected to be accompanied by Madame Lalou who herself is an eminent teacher and one of the few women who have attained the title of Agregee de l'Universite.

Professor Broussard of Louisiana is well-known among American teachers as a specialist in Franch phonetics and as the author of French textbooks widely used throughout the schools and colleges of the United States.

Other leading French educators now in the United States have also been engaged for the 1924 session, among whom we may mention Professor Rene Hardre of Middlebury College; Professor G. P. Fougeray of Buffalo; Mlle. Jeanne le Guiner, Docteur-de-lettres de l'Universite de Paris; Mlle. Elisabeth Roseneige of Middlebury College; Mlle. Louise Daman-Pichat, of Dana Hall School; Mlle. Lea Surleau of the Emma Willard School; Mlle. Marguerite Piquard, of Cleveland, Ohio.

The courses in the French School have been reorganized with a view to securing greater variety and closer coordination. They will be as follows:

Advanced Courses: Phonetics; Methods; Advanced Grammar; Advanced Composition; Historie de France; La Poesie au XIX Siecle; La Literature Contemporaine. The titles of two other courses on literary subjects, under Professors Dequaire and Lalou, will be announced later.

Intermediate Courses: Elements of Phonetics; Intermediate Grammar; Intermediate Composition; Conversational French; La France d'Adjourd'hui.

Plans are now under way for the laying of the cornerstone of the new Maison Francaise on July 14, the French national holiday, with imposing ceremonies. President Moody has invited M. Jusserand the French Ambassador to be the principal speaker on this occasion.

Delta U Captures Scholarship Honors

Theta Chi Epsilon	85.61
Pi Beta Phi	85.47
Kappa Kappa Gama	84.09
Delta Omega Delta	83.48
Sigma Kappa	83.16
Neutrals	82.08
Average of sorority women	84.60
Average of non-sorority	82.08
Average of all women	83.33
Average of men and women	80.52

Since 1915, when relative scholarship averages by fraternities was first computed, Delta Upsilon has taken highest honors seven semesters; the Neutrals six semester; and Chi Psi, Kappa Delta Rho, Delta Kappa Epsilon, and the Philians, one semester each. The groups that led each semester are as follows:

First and Second Sem. 1915-16 Delta Upsilon.
First Sem. 1916-17, Delta Upsilon.
Second Sem. 1916-17, Chi Psi.
Six Semesters 1917 to 1920, Neutrals.
First Sem. 1920-21, Delta Upsilon.
Second Sem. 1920-21, Kappa Delta Rho.
First and Second Sem. 1921-22, Delta Upsilon.
First Sem. 1922-23, Delta Kappa Upsilon.
Second Sem. 1922-23, Philians.

The lowest average of any of the men's groups in this time was 67.23, and the highest 82.64.

In this same period, the Neutrals have led the women's groups seven times, Sigma Kappa six times, Alpha Chi (now Kappa Kappa Gamma) and Pi Beta Phi twice, and Delta Delta Delta once.

First Sem. 1915-16, Sigma Kappa.
Five semesters, 1916 to 1919 Neutrals.
Four semesters, 1919 to 1920, Sigma Kappa.
First Sem. 1920-21, Alpha Chi.
Second Sem. 1920-21, Neutrals.
First Sem. 1921-22, Pi Beta Phi.
Second Sem. 1921-22, Neutrals.
First Sem. 1922-23, Alpha Chi.
Second Sem. 1922-23, Pi Beta Phi.

American Colleges Help Needy European Students

less help comes soon. A prominent foundation has promised to duplicate every dollar American students give up to $50,000.

"The European Student Relief, which has united students all over the world in a great cooperative effort, is having a remarkable influence in the promotion of international goodwill understanding and cooperation. If a spirit of friendship can be inculcated in students of alienated nations, it is not too much to expect that this spirit will remain when they become the leaders of to-when they become the leader."

"It's on even when it's off"

(Does this slogan about the Hinge-Cap deserve a prize? If not, what better one can you suggest? Read our offer)

$250 in Prizes

For the best sentence of ten words or less on the value of the Williams Hinge-Cap, we offer the following prizes: 1st prize, $100; 2nd prize, $50; two 3rd prizes, $25 each; two 4th prizes, $10 each; six 5th prizes, $5 each. Any undergraduate or graduate student is eligible. If two or more persons submit identical slogans deemed worthy of prizes, the full amount of the prize will be awarded to each. Contest closes at midnight March 14, 1924. Winners will be announced as soon thereafter as possible. Submit any number of slogans but write on one side of paper only, putting name, address, college and class at top of each sheet. Address letters to Contest Editor, The J. B. Williams Co., Glastonbury, Conn.

WILLIAMS is a wonderfully popular shaving cream. Here's why:—It's heavier, faster-working lather, the way it lubricates the path of the razor and eliminates painful friction, the soothing ingredient which keeps the skin so smooth and cool even in daily shaving—these are qualities men like! They also like its purity—no artificial coloring. With the new Hinge-Cap, Williams is winning more friends than ever before. See if you ever used a shaving cream as good.
